THE RACETRACK.

HAMBURG IN THE BRIGHTON CUP.

INCIDENTS OF SPORT ON THE SAND DUNES. Marcus Daly's Hamburg and Ogden took first and second money in the Brighton Cup at Brighton yesterday. Hamburg shot into the lead early in the run, and Sloan, who was in the saddle, war kind enough to permit the thousands of spectators to admire the champion in full flight. Hamburg is in a class by himself. Howard Mann was so far inferior to Hamburg that he was started solely for the purpose of obtaining third money. It was pure fun for Hamburg, and Howard Mann had no chance against Ogden for second place.

The programme contained a list of seven races.

Most of the fields were small, and the withdrawals were numerous. A pleasant breeze from the sca refreshed the large company of recreation-seekers. A copious but brief thunderstorm came down between the third and fourth races. It did not alter the centests, as the rain did not last long mough to change the condition of the track to any erious extent. Peep o' Day, in the fourth race, proved that he is a better horse than most people think he is by carrying 14) pounds to victory at lix furlongs, after a tiresome delay at the post Taral rode him in the best style of his best days. truth, Tarel appeared almost to rise from the ead when the Peep peeped.

Maher had four mounts. It was not one of his onquering afternoons. He got second place in the scond race and third place in a field of four in the aird race. In the fourth skirmish Maher was on thenille and was unplaced. In the sixth scamper he was second on Cormorant. The steeplechase was one of those amiable Hitchcock Benefits which incite the most ill tempered of essimistic cynics to renew their faith in handispers and in the miliest and gentlest sentiments and sympathies of tender humanity. If it were not or these frequent Hitchcock Benefits certain devayed rallers might tak ribaidly about jumping freuses on and hear the Atlantic Coast. But when appers and in the mildest and genulest sentiments pd sympathies of tender humanity. If it were not or these frequent blitcheock Benefits certain derawed railers might tak ribality about jumples freuses on and near the Atlantic Coast. But when I is thoroughly understood that hurdle races and teeplechases in the boroughs of The Broux and of Brooklyn are chiefly given for the charitable object I Hitcheock Benefits, then hurdle-racing and teeplechasing touch the heart and thrill the soul. Vere it not that the emotional handleapper is softly weet when he adjusts the weights on the Hitcheock fould inelst upon annihilating the American turf by eilling out every horse which they own and retricting their energies to tracing canine predigrees ack to the origin of the Dog Star and to the prime-nd Echidaa. And what would the American turf denen, poor thing, poor thing? Without its freuently recurring and periodical Hitchcock Benefit . Would inevitably collapse and cease.

Peep o' Day can carry weight, and now and then 'arai climbs on the spinal column of that son of yrshire and says to aimself. This time I'm a Rooseelt Rough Rider and I'll raise Abel with those panish bookmakers, not to mention Cain." Then
'eep o' Day snorts for a few seconds and fancies
'and he is another Hamburg. Before that smoky lipe dream is over Peep o' Day sometimes wins a
loc. And nobody is so much astonished as Peep
'Day himself.

Sloan talks to his friends about his plan of going o England. He says that he is going over after he money, and expects to win many races. Sloan as been carefully nursing his health at Saratoga, and shows a marked improvement. He has been 'eeping good hours. He had a brief experience at faro table, which cost him $1.500, but that is a here bagatelle to him. He will probably win it ack with a four flush at the first poker game in is rooms, at the Hotel Cecil, is London.

Marcus Daly was at Brighton yesterday. So were many of his friends from the West. Exlayor Hugh J. Grant viewed the races from one the boxes. James R. Keene, John Hunter, John ielly, John W. Keller, James Martin, Patrick keenan and many other well-known New-Yorkers were the track.

After the cup race was finished the match-making and special race fever broke out anew, but it as all one-sided, as William Powers, who is Maras Daly's agent, would not talk about either a latch or a special race. The Brighton manageient proposed to give a $2500 special prize, to be 'un for on Tuesday, August 2, but the outlook for special affair is anything, but auspicious just ow. Hamburg is the king and is not likely to be sthroned. There is plenty of time for a battle stween Hamburg and Ornament before the seain closes. Marcus Daly is a thoroughlyred sporistan. He is not a man who can be driven into

In closes. Marcus Daly is a thoroughbred sportsian. He is not a man who can be driven into aking a match. He says: "I do not believe in atches, although I did race Tammany against amplighter. I believe in racing for the prizes fered by the clubs, and abiding by the results of the contests. However, I will not stand in the ay of anything that will increase the public ingrest in racing. I leave my horses to my ainer's judgment, and never interfere with his massement."

miner's judgment, and never interfere with his management."

James R. Keene's yearlings are at the Gravesend tack, where they will be broken and trained by hin Hynes.

Tillo is taking trotting and cantering exercise. Ithough there are nearly six hundred horses partered at Saratoga, it is a difficult task to obtain entries enough to fill the fields.

Futurity work is now attracting the attention of its turfmen, and every colt or filly that starts in a ace, no matter what the class may be, is talked bout as a possibility for the Futurity.

ACCIDENT ON THE SARATOGA TRACK. TWO JOCKEYS HURT AND FILLY PLACID KILLED

Saratoga, July 30.-Racing men were sorry hear of the death to-day of the choice filly Placid and the injuries to two jockeys, William Swan and Charles Mealey. The accident seems to have been an unaveldable one, and occurred while th horses were being worked this morning. Stewart & Co.'s colt McAllister ran away and collided with Placid, ridden by Swan. Mealey was thrown when McAllister bolted, and his leg was badly fractured. Swan was hurt seriously in the hip and leg. Th filly was so injured that she had to be shot. Allister, the cause of all the trouble, got off with Allister, the cause of all the trouble, got off with a shoulder out of joint. The jockeys are in a bad way and are at the hospital.

The attendance at the track to-day was not what it should have been. The weather was warm but fine, and the going good. The fields were small and the racing was, as a whole, rather tame. Itish Reel won the Kearney Stakes in a big gallop rather easily, only having two competitors. The summeries:

FINE PLAY IN THE DOUBLES ON THE LONG-WOOD COURTS.

Boston, July 30.-Semi-finals of the Eastern tennis doubles were played on the courts at Longwood this morning. The first match between G. L. Wrenn and M. D. Whitman against Alfred Codman and E. R. Marvin was fully up to the high standard of the Eastern dcubies, and was an excellent exhibition of play. The superior team work of Wrenn and Whitman was evident from the first. Their play was almost mechanical in its smoothness. Marvin was, on the whole, in brilliant form, and many of his shots were equal in skill to those of Wrenn and Whitman, but at times he lacked in steadiness, which his opponents had by virtue of much greater experience. Wrenn and Whitman won, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

The second match between R. H. Carleton and won, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

The record match between R. H. Carleton and Beals Wright, who yesterday won an exciting five-set match from Hooker and Hackett, and Seaver and Ewer, resulted in a victory for the former. In their match yesterday Carleton and Wright won a high reputation, and it was thought that Seaver and Ewer would fall a rather easy prey, but the first and second sets furnished something of a surprise, several of the games being very close. Carleton and Wright in the third set recovered their wonderful pace of yesterday and finished the match by a love set, winning, 6-2, 6-4, 6-9.

GOSSIP OF THE TROTTERS. After her brilliant race at Cleveland Mattle Paterson (2:00%) was sold for the reported sum of $6,000 to H. M. Hanna, who is a brother of Senator Mark Hanna. Mr. Hanna is a prominent member of the Cleveland Driving Club, and he will probably start his new trotter in the weekly cup races of the club when she is retired from the turf.

N. W. Hubinger, of New-Haven, has bought the bay mars Belle J., by Ben Johnson, that won two heats in the $10,000 race at Detroit last week. The price is said to have been $3,000. Belle J. was preminent in the preliminary campaign in the West, showing so much speed in her race at Peorla that the betting fraternity made her a favorite the next week in the big race at Detroit. After winning two heats she collapsed and gave way to the game colt Directum Kelly. This performance was repeated at Cleveland, where she won the fastest heat in the 225 race, trotting to a record of 2:1, after which she was beaten easily by

The Bridgeport Driving Club will hold a threeday trotting meeting on Friday, Saturday and Monday, September 2, 3 and 5, entries closing August 15. The programme includes classes for 2:20, 2:25, 2:29 and 2:34 trotters, and for 2:19, 2:24, 2:29 and 2:34 pacers. The purses are $300 and $400.

N. W. Hubinger's fast young trotter Margaret (2:13%), by Eagle Bird, has gone lame again, and it is said that she will not start this year. Mr. Hubinger matched her last winter for $2,500 a side play or pay, to trot against James A. Murphy's Emily (2:11), by Prince Regent. The match was set for decision at the Glens Falls Grand Circuit meeting next month, but it is said that Mr. Hubinger has already instructed James Butler, the stakeholder, to pay over the $5.000 stakes to the owner of Emily. This action is almost unprece-dented in play-or-pay matchmaking, as Emily might be worse off than Margaret a month hence.

J. M. D., the winner of the $10,000 race at De troit in 1824, lowered his record from 2:13% to 2:12% at the Dover meeting on Thursday. The is now in his thirteenth year, and he has on the turf ever since he was a four-year-

W. R. Janvier, of this city, has purchased of William R. Allen, Pittsfield, Mass., the noted broad mare Lyre, by Arthurton, dam Gambrina, by George Wilkes. Lyre is the dam of the fast young trotter Lyric (2.14). She has by her side a bay coit by Kremlin (2.74), Mr. Janvier will send the mare and coit to Germany, having made the pur-chase for a European breeder of tretters.

C. J. Hamila is becoming an extensive exporter of trotting-bred horses. He sent abroad & consignment of twenty head a few months ago in charge of Henry King, the former superintendent of the Buffalo track, who sold them to good advantage in Germany, Austria and Italy. King has just sailed for Austria with another lot of thirteen well-bred youngsters from Village Farm.

One of the fastest pacers on the new Speedway is Monroe Salisbury's old campaigner Killarney Maid, now owned and driven by W. B. E. Lockwood. 204, and Direct, 2005, in private trials, but she was so nervous on the track as to be almost worthless for racing purposes, and never gained a fast record. The mare is very level-headed and well-behaved on the road.

The Parkway Driving Club will hold its fall meeting on September 27, 28, 29 and 39.

Louisville, Ky., July 20.-New-York's latest acquisition, Carrick, from Newark, proved a puzzle to the Colonels to-day, pitching a tidy and heady game. While his work was in no sense phenomenal, it was the kind that wins when backed up by such support as the New-Yorks can give when playing their best game.

About two thousand five hundred spectators saw the contest, which was interesting throughout, notwithstanding the visitors had a good lead from the start, an advantage they held to the end. Outside of Carrick's pitching, the features were a three-base hit by Wagner and a fine home run by Tiernan. The score.

East Orange, N. J., July 30 (Special).-The ball game to-day between the Orange Athletic Association and the Arlington Athletic Association was clean, bright and interesting struggle. # YACHTING.

INDIAN HARBOR REGATTA.

THE MONGOOSE, THE AKABO, THE DRAGOON AND THE LOBSTER AMONG THE WINNERS IN SOME OF THE BEST SAILING

> OF THE YEAR-NUMER-OUS CAPSIZES.

For general interest, variety and picturesque effects, yesterday's regatts of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club was a great one. The weather varied from lightest air to heavy squall, and the last half of the races was satled chiefly by lightning light and in a succession of hard puffs from different points of the compass that made many a ckleshell seek a refuge.

There was some excellent racing in different classes, as might be expected when thirty-nine yachts started out of sixty-one entries, and there were a number of incidents and accidents that held the interest at a sometimes rather painful tension For instance, when some boat would rush in and out of the blue squall and tell the committee that different yachts were capsized out in the Sound, it was anxious waiting to know how the unfortunate were faring; and the club steam launches that vere sent out brought no word for a long time. The blg cathoat Volsung capsized near the gas buoy off Great Captain's Island, and the Punch was also reported to be overturned in the same locality, but nothing could be seen from the committee boat, which was anchored at the finish line.

Among the winners were the Dragoon, the Moncose, the Sirene, the Akabo, the Kit, the Qut Vive (subject to resail), the Minnetonka, the Lobster and The preparatory signal was given at 1:30 p. m.

and five minutes later the first division, consisting of the large cabin sloops, were sent away. They crossed as follows, all close-hauled on the starboard tack: The Anoatok, the Dragoon, the Acushla, Vorant 11 and the Bingo. The second division was sent away at 1:40, and crossed in the following order: The Asthore, the Eas, the Montauk and the Akabo. The Asthore was the only one that got good start, the Akabo having a poor position and not crossing the line until nearly four minutes after the gun. The cabin cathoats were sent off in the next division, crossing as follows: The Kit, the Shippan, the Volsung, Dosoris II. the Qui Vive, the Win or Lose and the Amos. A 1:50 the open catboats were started, and slipped over the line in the following order: Edwina II, the Lobster, the Sirene, the E. Z., the Spray, the Elsie, the Minnetonka, the Punch, the Louis Belle, the Dorothy, the Coot and the Gosbird. The knockabouts, all in one class, were sent away at 1:55, crossing in the following order: The Mongoose, the Lucille, the Mariposa and the Indianola, and the dorles, which were started at 2 o'clock, crossed as follows: The Black Cat, the Fern, Tyler's unnamed, the Sea Dog, the Ketch and Com-

The starts of the 36-foot class and the knockabout class deserve special mention for the smart way all were crowded to the line and crossed on the gun, so close together that it was difficult to take their times. In these two classes the Anoatok and the Mongoose showed the best calculation in their respective fleets, and the clouds of sails crowding over the line made good pictures as well as good sport.

The start and finish line was between the Regatta Committee's steamer Wonder and an anchored stakeboat off the entrance to the harbor. The 36-footers went twice around a course around the gas buoy off the eastern end of Little Captain's Island, thence to a stakeboat anchored one and five-eighths miles to the southwest, thence to the red spar off the western end of Great Cap-tain's Island, thence to the red spar on Carmel Reef and home, a total distance of thirteen nautical miles. The smaller sloops, cabin cathoats and knockabouts went twice around the same course except that they paid no attention to the anchored stakeboat between the first and second marks, a total distance of ten nautical miles. The open cathoats went once around this course, five nautical miles, and the dories sailed twice around a small triangle, a total distance of three nautical

The wind was southeast at the start, with a big thunderstorm up its sleeve and sticking out by the time the last division was sent off, the little dorles were coming back from their first small round, and the first of the squall took them as they counded the home mark. The big Kit, T. J. Dunne arrived at the markboat heavily pressed and practically on her ear. She dropped her peak to gybe, but didn't have to, as she saw that she could run ut on the new course with her boom to starboard, the wind of this squall being about northwest. The others followed her close, the Akabo, the Volsung, the Wanda, Dosorts II and the Akabo taking the gybe, and a good many were seen reefing as they ran out southeasterly. The yachts were timed at the end of the first round as follows:

Fern, 2:26:23; Black Cat, 2:26:28; Ketch II, 2:26:26; Tyler's unnamed, 2:30:20; Kit, 2:36:28; Akabo, 2:33:92; Volsung, 2:39:23; Wanda, 2:39:34; Dosoris II, 2:39:58; Asthore, 2:40:48; Acushia, 2:41:62; Anoatok, 2:41:32; Dragoon, 2:41:42; Qui Vive, 2:43:28; Vorant II, 2:46:42; Montauk, 2:48:42; Mongoose, 2:58:97; Sirene, 2:33:56; Lucille, 2:58:30; Indianola, 2:59:93; Spray, 8:12:53; Minnetonka, 3:18:29, and Gosbird, 3:31:52.

the small sons of Mr. Alley, of the Larchmont Yacht Club, came in she had an extra load of human freight, and it appeared that she had taken some of the crew off the capsized Punch. After unloading the rescued on a steamer she proceeded with her race. It had been raining perfect deluges for some time, and the wind was blowing hard. Some of the boats were tying down to their close reefs, and Hazen Morse, who was sailing the Mongoose, said he got the squalls in many different directions while out in the Sound. One of these sudden shrifts goosewinged the gaff of the catboat Volsung, capsizing her immediately. The Indian Harbor Club launch was sent out to pick up the Volsung, but she was found eventually to have been assisted by Charles Sooysmith's steam yacht Althea, which happened to be cruising in the neighborhood. Mr. Sooysmith kindly towed the Volsung through the storm into Indian Harbor. The smart and hitherto unbeaten 25-foot catboat Wanda, designed by Herreshoff and owned by F T. Bedford, gave up first place in her race rescue the crew on the overturned vacht, so that although the Qui Vive finished first, she will no doubt be obliged to sail again with the Wanda for this prize under the old-time rule in favor of racers which stop to save life. The yachts were timed at the finish as follows: Tern, 2:36:18; Black Cat, 2:57:08; Elsie, 3:00:02; Tyler's unnamed, 3:00:50; Lobster, 2:10:15; Edwina II, 3:10:37; Louie Bell, 3:14:20; Akabo, 3:26:12; Kit, 3:26:35; Coot, 2:33:31; Qui Vive, 3:44:29; Asthore, 3:45:58; Mongoose, 3:53:22; Indianola, 3:54:07; Sirene, 3:55:18; Dragoon, 3:55:51; Montauk, 3:56:06; Acushin, 3:56:25; Anoatok, 3:56:39; Bingo, 3:59:04, and Minnetonka, 4:28:40.

The George G. Tyson Cup is awarded to the foot cabin cat class. The Tod Cup goes to the Si-foot sloops. The E. C. Benedict trophy is for the dory class. The other prizes are given by the club. The Edwina II salled as a catboat, as the half-rater sloop class did not fill. Mrs. Downing and Miss Bacon sailed on the Committee steamer. The Coot finished with four reefs in, and the close finish between the Dragoon, the Acushla and the Anoatok There will be a game to-day on the St. George Dorval, Que., July 30.-The second series of trial races to select a defender for the Seawanhaka international challenge cup was but sparsely at-tended. The wind was a little stronger than last week and from the west, and, though the races were sailed over the same triangular course, the boats started over the longest leg, beating to windward, then on a long reach to the next buoy, and home with a free run. Only three boats competed the skippers of the Glencairn and the Strathcons the skippers of the Glencairn and the Stratacona being unable to collect their crews. The boats saliing were Commodore Ross's Unknown, sailed by Duggan; Mr. Drummond's Manitou, salied by himself, and the brokers' syndicate's Speculator, sailed by Hamilton. In two races Duggan actually came in first; in the other he came in second, but won on allowance by fifteen seconds. It is practically cartain now that, unless something unforeseen happens, the Unknown will be selected, though no real trial of her has been had in a strong wind.

Moriches yesterday afternoon between John Masury's Isolde and John McAleenan Dodo. The boats were of the 20-foot cat class, and there was no time allowance. Many summer guests and cottagers wit-nessed the race, which was very close, and resulted in the Dodo winning by one second in a ten-mile race to windward and back. Summary:

WILLIAMSBURG CLUB RACE ENTRIES.

A special race for the club championship trophy and pennant among the cathoats of the Williamsburg Yacht Club will be sailed over the club course in Flushing Bay, Long Island, to-day. The entries closed with the Regatta Committee last night, and are as follows:

The yachtsmen of Huntington, Long Island, started yesterday on the club's annual cruise. The first run was intended to be to Black Rock. The fleet will call at New-London and Block Island on the way eastward, and will be away about two weeks. Ten yachts started.

HUNTINGTON CLUB CRUISE.

THE CRAFT AND THEIR SAILORS John Jacob Astor has sent word to Captain Curtis, the skipper of the steam yacht Nourmahai, to fit out at once. The Nourmahai is now at Tebo's.

An open regatta will be given on Saturday, August 6, by the Sag Harbor Yacht Club, in which sloops, cats and sharples will sail without entrance fee, and suitable prizes will be given. The course will be triangular, having its starting point at the club and its outer marks at Shelter Island and Cedar Island, the distance around being twenty miles. Entries may be sent to E. L. Keese, secre-tary, or to J. A. Udall and A. M. Young, Sag Harbor.

Lloyd Phoenix, of the New-York Yacht Club, has arrived in Boston with a three-masted steam yacht Intrepid, which cleared from New-York some time ago and has been taking the journey by easy stages.

The auxiliary steam yacht Enterprise, owned by A. J. Cassatt, of the New-York Yacht Club, had her main and fore topsail yards carried away, her launch badly crushed and her starboard davits removed in a collision with a three-masted collier of Hyannis last week. One of her small boats was afterward picked up on the beach at Hyannis. The Enterprise was taken to Marbiehead for repairs, which will probably cost about $500. This yacht was built in England, and was formerly known as the Star of the Sea. She was bound from New-York to Boston at the time of the collision, and her owner was on board.

Dr. Richard H. Derby, of the Seawanhaks Corinthian Yacht Club, arrived at Halifax last Monday on his sloop yacht the Quero, which was lately fitted out at Morris Heights.

"The London Field" speaks of the steam yacht Margarita being "chartered" by the King of the Beigians, and later, in the same paragraph, speaks of the boat being refitted "for her new owner." It is, therefore, not certain from this as to whether the yacht has been leased or sold. The Margarita is now lying in Southampton water, and she may perhaps still belong to Anthony J. Drexel, of the New-York Yacht Club. When the little Minnetonka, bravely sailed by

Two hospital ambulance launches for the transport steamer Missouri are being built at the yards of the Seabury Company, at Morris Heights. The boats are each 28 feet long.

The schooner yacht Brunhilde, owned by John M. Masury, of the New-York Yacht Club, has been away from New-York for about eighteen months, and is now being held in quarantine at Norfolk. Va., where she arrived with the English flag flying jack down, to show that there was some trouble on board. The man in charge of the yacht wanted to and the satiors at Old Point and ship a new crew.

Dr. Petus, of the quarantine ship Jamestown, refused to allow this, as the boat had just come from Rio Janeiro.

The German Emperor apparently does not intend to race the big cutter Meteor any more this season. She has arrived at Southampton from Kiel, and will be laid up at Itchen Perry.

James D. Baird has leased the racing sloop Surprise to Mr. Raney, who will take her out West. Captain Horace Weeks will go with her as her sailing master. Charles Fletcher, of the New-York Yacht Club, has his steam yacht the Seneca at Providence, R. I.

and has appointed Captain Dand as her sailing J. M. Forbes, of Boston, has arrived with a party of friends at Old Point, Norfolk, Va., on his steam

It is rather amusing to hear that the Spruce IV. brought here by J. Arthur Brand to race for the Seawanhaka Cup, is still racing in England and got defeated somewhere the other day. On this side the developments in small boat designing have been so extensive and speed in those classes has been so greatly increased that the Spruce IV seems like a product of some forgotten age. George D. Wetherill, of Philadelphia, has chartered the schooner yacht Lydia. This vessel is not anchored at Larchmont, but she does not appear in the lists of the Larchmont Club yachts. C. L. Orr-Ewing's new schooner, the Rainbow, has gone to Dublin to witness the regatta of the Royal

St. George Club and the race for the Queen's Cup. The Rainbow will not race again until the "Cores Week," in August.
